

C-ITS Organogram

Wednesday, September 28, 2016

Jeannette Bins

Jeanette is LCC's Equality and Cohesion Manager who would describe herself as severely sight impaired, a guide dog handler and also a person with mobility and dexterity difficulties.

Dr Darren Ansell

Leads the Intelligent Systems Group at UCLan, and has produce a number of intelligent hardware and software based proof of concept demonstrators over the last two years. Darren was previously the head of autonomous systems research at BAE Systems and will act as the Engineering Manager on this project.

Dr Wasiq Khan

Dr Khan holds a PhD in advanced audio signal processing and has also completed projects which combine sensor systems with intelligent software to support human decision making. Wasiq will lead the software development work on the project.

Mr Ben Watkinson

Ben holds a Masters degree in Robotics Engineering, and is ideally placed to support any electronic and sensor systems integration that is required to produce the prototype equipment.

Chris Webb

Chris has 25 years experience in the traffic systems industry including working for a number of national ITS companies.

Martin Porter

Has over 26 years experience working in LCC's Network Management. His experience included the development and design of the Fishergate scheme and the DfT's ITS- UTMC 29a demonstration project.

Ben Hamilton-Baille

Ben is an internationally renowned street designer who has been involved in many schemes including Exhibition Road, London and Poynton, Cheshire.

Lindsay Humblet

Lindsay is a partner with Planit IE who lead the design for the awarding winning Poynton and Fishergate schemes.

Chris Oakley

Chris is a director who is currently assisting the Chartered Institute of Highway and Transport on a review of shared space schemes nationally.