Helping my child get ready for starting school 2020
Starting school is a key transition in a child’s life and we have experienced unusual and unsettling times during the Coronavirus pandemic. We need to appreciate the difficulties and anxieties the lockdown may have created and help to support our children to be confident and look forward to starting school.

Transitions can be difficult for many children and it is important to be aware that some are more vulnerable than others. Creating a smooth transition into school is vital to ensuring the child gets the best possible start in their new setting.

It may be that the transition to school will look different this year and we want to help to support you and your child through this time and make it as smooth and enjoyable as possible.

Children often pick up on how their parents are feeling. This special edition of ‘Helping my child get ready for starting school in 2020’ is designed to support you with ideas, reduce any anxieties and feel confident that you have shared all the information that you wanted, to help the school begin to get to know the individual needs of your child.

The ‘What to Expect When’ document referenced at the back of the booklet will give you more information about the learning and development expectations for your child. Remember, your child is unique and their starting points may be different to other children.

Personal, social and emotional development, alongside communication and language, are a key focus to support your child’s confidence and wellbeing as they prepare to start school. Transition is not just an experience for the individual child but for everyone around the child. Your child’s confidence, security and happiness are the priority.
How can you help me to be ready for school?

- Help me to understand what is special about me
- Encourage me to be independent e.g. hand washing, getting dressed, at mealtimes etc.
- Encourage me to be curious about the world around me
- Model listening and following simple instructions in day to day things
- Encourage me to use language to express what I need or how I feel
- Help me to join in conversations by listening to me and asking for my ideas
- Help me to understand how others might feel
- Share stories with me every day and encourage me to talk about my favourite parts
- Play games with me to help me be active and physical every day
- Sing number songs and rhyming songs with me

Top tips for parents and carers

Be prepared for starting school in 2020

- Talk about starting school with your child to find out what they are expecting and how they feel
- Look at the school’s website or social media accounts together to spark conversation about things that happen in school
- Visit the school premises with your child
- Get in touch with the school to see if they have any transition information to share
- Talk to your child about the different people they will meet and different routines
- Talk about any induction routines and things that might be new in school e.g. assemblies etc.
- If social distancing is still in place, find out routines prior to the first day to enable you to be confident about what is happening, therefore reassuring your child
- Find out what equipment your child needs and when e.g. PE kit, book bag, wellies, waterproof clothing
- Play games and read books about starting school
- Watch the film clip together from the Lancashire website about starting school
- Practise getting ready for school by trying on the uniform
- Talk about new routines involved in getting to school, after school clubs etc.
- Label your child’s belongings

Starting School

- Create a calm excitement around starting school
- Talk to the teacher about what is unique about your child
- Create opportunities for your child to share their experiences of their day without too many questions
- Act on any concerns swiftly to minimise the impact of adversity and maximise support available
