

Summer

The months of summer are June, July and August.

In the summer the days are longer and the nights are shorter, the weather is warmer and sunnier. There are lots of flowers in the gardens, the fields and the meadows.

The wildflowers in the meadows and fields include poppies, cornflowers, buttercups and daisies.

lilies

The bees are busy collecting pollen from the flowers. They 'comb' the pollen from their hairs into 'baskets' on their back legs. They use this pollen for food. They also take nectar from the flowers using their long tongues.

a bee collecting pollen

Honey is a natural product produced by bees and much appreciated by people for its sweet taste and health benefits.

There are also lots of brightly-coloured butterflies. They get nectar from flowers. This gives them energy, which helps them fly. There are about sixty types of butterflies in Britain, including the red admiral, peacock, tortoiseshell and cabbage white.
