PTL150 Great Teaching Networks

Great Teaching courses use evidence-based research to develop, and embed, 'great' teaching and learning.

The aims of the Great Teaching Networks are:

- To enable SLT/Teaching and Learning Leads to be informed about research and current issues around generic high-quality teaching and learning
- To explore key messages and strategies for improving, and enhancing, day to day teaching and learning
- To have opportunity to network with other Teaching and Learning Leads, to discuss issues arising and to share good practice
- To have CPD in an aspect of Great Teaching which can then be delivered back in school
