IMPORTANT NOTE**

- These replies do not incorporate any information that would ordinarily be revealed by search made with the Local Land Charges Authority under the Local Land Charges Act 1972 (both the Con 29 Part I Standard Enquiries and the Con 29 Part II Optional Enquiries) in the form published by the Law Society entitled 'Enquiries of Local Authorities (2002 Edition) or which would ordinarily be revealed by a search of any other register that is available for public inspection. The Buyer must make those searches and the Seller will not accept responsibility for anything that the Buyer does not know about that he would have known about had he made those searches.

- The Seller will not in these replies, comment upon potential proposals that may be within the knowledge of the local authority as a whole that could be, but are not yet, registrable, as local land charges under the Local Land Charges Act 1972 or which would be revealed by a question raised upon a local search.
- The answers to these enquiries are given in the Council's capacity as landowner only and the Seller shall be free to exercise any statutory function or discretion that is has freely as it thinks fit, notwithstanding any answer to these enquiries.
- The seller will not unilaterally inform the Buyer of any changes in these replies that arise between the date the replies are given and the date the Buyer commits himself to the purchase, unless the Buyer specifically requests in writing
- The replies to these enquiries do not obviate the need to make all prudent enquiries and searches and to make a thorough professional survey of the condition by suitably qualified professionals of the Property both above and below ground and the availability and presence of pipes and services. Any information that would have been revealed to the buyer had the buyer made those enquiries, searches and surveys is not imputed into the answers to these enquiries
- In compiling these answers the Estates Department has not examined the files and records kept by the local authority generally nor have they consulted with the local authority's planning, highways, drainage, waste regulation or environmental divisions nor any outside agency or regulatory body. Any knowledge or information that these divisions or bodies have is not to be imputed into these replies.
- These replies may, but do not necessarily, repeat information that is set out in the Agreement for Sale. The Buyer is recommended to thoroughly read all the information contained in the Agreement for Sale.
- If the Buyer has not employed a professional solicitor or professional legal adviser to represent them, the Seller strongly recommends that the Buyer does so. The Seller cannot provide assistance to Buyers who are not professionally represented and will assume that a Buyer who acts independently will make the same enquiries that a professional legal adviser would do.
